

Frieze Talks at Frieze New York 2018

Drawing upon the recent outpouring of contemporary fiction, curators Tom Eccles and Amy Zion (Bard College) have invited writers, poets and artists into discussions that challenge sound-bite/ tweet-driven narratives with profound and often humorous investigations into today's American landscapes.

Friday, May 4

12pm: Yuri Herrera (author of Signs Preceding the End of the World, The Transmigration of Bodies) in conversation with artists Carlos Amoraes and Abraham Cruzvillegas

3pm: Author Otessa Moshfegh (Eileen, Homesick for Another World) in conversation with writer Patty Yumi Cottrell (Sorry to Disrupt the Peace)

Saturday, May 5

12pm: Fred Moten (Professor in the Department of Performance Studies, NYU) in conversation with Sondra Perry (artist)

3pm: Novelist Kaitlyn Greenidge (We love you Charlie Freeman) in conversation with historian Kerri Greenidge

Sunday, May 6

12pm: Author Elif Batuman (The Idiot, The Possessed) in conversation with Negar Azimi (writer, editor Bidoun)

Talks are free to attend and take place in the talks space, between B17 & B18.